

The BLSTCL MINUTES from December 4, 2007

Those present:

Enid (Co-consul)
Tom (Webmaster)
Jessica (Secretary)

Jacob (Co-consul)
Allie (Historian)
And guests: Nida, Freeman, and Olivia

Duration: 18 minutes

Highlights of the gathering:

Fall Fundraiser: Candy selling and Giftwrapping
Generating more interest for giftwrapping
Upcoming Events

Upcoming events, requests, and deadlines:

N/A

2:45 PM- We have just finished having a general meeting where the members who showed up were told about giftwrapping, candy selling, and were given directions to Classics Day.

2:48 PM- We get an update on the website from Tom and decide to designate writing responsibilities to different officers.

2:51 PM- Enid says we want to do community service, eventually. We can go to our elementary schools and teach the first declension to students who are going to take the ISEE in hopes of getting into one of the exam schools.

2:53 PM- We talk about setting a real date for certamen practices. Jacob says they don't have to be long or very often.

3:53 PM- Jacob tells us that we're not going to any scrimmages until January at BLA.

3:54 PM- Jacob says that the states convention is being moved past April vacation to around May 9th-ish. It is now going to interfere with various exams, but it can't be helped.

2:55 PM- We've gotten one newsletter out, says Jacob, but we need to write another.

2:56 PM- Enid says they've instated a new rule where officers must do giftwrapping with at least one officer at each location every day. We need to tell Enid what we do during the weekend.

2:58 PM- Jessica should email Enid with Shu Yi's phone number.

3:00 PM- Never mind about emailing the phone number, Freeman has it.

3:02 PM- Everyone gets a chance to skim over the giftwrapping sign up dates.

3:03 PM- The meeting is over. There's nothing more to say.